Demonstrations

Demonstrations serve to disseminate advances embodied in research-oriented tools and systems that use or support AOSD. Attendees learn about emerging technologies and have opportunities to interact with their developers. Presenters gain excellent opportunities to increase the visibility and impact of their work. AOSD.09 solicits high quality proposals for its demonstration track.

Student Volunteers

The Student Volunteers program provides an opportunity for students to associate with the top researchers in AOSD and to make new friends among potential future colleagues. Students volunteer a few hours of their time performing tasks that help the conference run smoothly. Each volunteer receives a free student registration to the conference and a banquet ticket.

Student Events: Poster Session and Spring School

Student Events at AOSD'09 serve to attract and support students who are doing research in AOSD. The Poster Event is held in conjunction with the Welcome Reception. This allows students to maximize the visibility of their work and to get feedback from and mingle with conference participants and other students. The Spring School links students with mentors who are experts in AOSD and provides students with an opportunity to attend various talks about performing research in AOSD.

Research and Industry Papers

AOSD.09 anticipates continuing the tradition of past by offering a strong program that contains research and industry paper sessions. Submitted papers are currently under review and the final program will be announced in January.
